

Put a couple of "wins" in the bicycle column

Written by Mongoose Bikes

Saturday, 23 April 2011 06:35 -

Bicycle advocates should be happy about racking up a couple of victories toward the end of the week. On a nationwide scale, bicyclists were able to turn back an attempt to weaken the federal regulations that require bicyclists and pedestrians get "due consideration." On a smaller scale, a brouhaha over a suggested 10 mph speed limit for bicyclists on the Golden Gate Bridge prompted the bridge ...